by shaun odour

as the soliciter munched away on his fourth uneaten slice of submerged kennel rebate factory shoes he was forced into the position of laughing whilst singing the tune that is used to bieng arrested for a crime that only tiny blind boys have witnessed and actually served time for in a prism made of ripe pig sick and naked lollipop collections under a near by railway line transporting deaf comedians to the institute of the funny dead clinic place dressed in only a frail piece of home made wax the little animal in the middle of the woods started crying and shouting for its mother holding a litre of rope produced under a baked box in the mind of a flirting fan of mister arnold jumbo cheese dog who himself recently purchased a copy of the original diary of the ex russion impersonater mister neil under carridge of a deformed sheep dogs nephew anyway it was the kgb who coined the phrase lets go and chew the belgian farming ants wasnt it or was it?
